

MARSHALL AGREES TO LIMITED REPARATIONS

Approve U. S. Aid To Greece and Turkey

WASHINGTON, April 3—The senate foreign relations committee today approved by a vote 13-9 legislation to carry out President Truman's program of extending $400,000,000 financial and limited military aid to Greece and Turkey.

Brushing aside proposals to eliminate Turkey as a beneficiary and to strip out the military aid provisions, the committee unanimously sent an amended bill to the senate for expected action there next week.

Before acting, it revised an amendment by Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) to give the United Nations authority to call a halt on American assistance only when the international organization finds that assistance being provided by itself makes the continuance of American aid unnecessary.

U. S. SECURES ISLAND HOLD

Pacific Trusteeship Is Approved By U. N. Security Council

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 3—The vast chains of Pacific islands where Japan mounted her attack against the United States officially went under American control today through Security Council approval of a United Nations strategic area trusteeship.

Four hours after the unanimous council decision last night, American Delegate Warren R. Austin boarded a train for Washington with the major victory in his pocket.

Austin won the significant triumph in a bitter round of closing debate, where Soviet Delegate, Andrei A. Gromyko at one point obtained on a contested section rather than exercise the veto.

Commenting that "this demonstrates that the United Nations does work," Austin took the report to Capitol Hill, where he was called before a house committee to testify on expenditures of the American U. N. delegation.

Austin likewise advised his old colleagues in the senate, which must finally ratify the agreement, but this was expected to be a routine step.

The agreement gives the United States sweeping rights, amounting to virtual annexation, under which the government may fortify the vital islands, close them at will for security reasons, and ban foreign aircraft.

As sole administering authority, the United States also reserved the right to reject any modification or alteration of the terms. This was the point where Gromyko raised his strongest objections, contending that the council itself should hold such powers.

Secretary Of Interior Krug Orders 518 Mines Closed

LEWIS FLAYS GOVERNMENT'S LATE ACTION

Mines Affected Believed To Be Dangerous; 40,000 Workers Involved

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 3—Secretary of the Interior Krug today ordered the indefinite closing of 518 coal mines for safety reasons and John L. Lewis commented: "May God in heaven forgive him" for not closing them before 111 miners died at Centralia, Ill.

Krug announced that 2,013 other mines in government possession will be permitted to reopen next Monday at end of the miners' six-day mourning period for the Centralia victims, provided the pits are certified as safe.

The 518 mines ordered closed by Krug because they are "believed dangerous," employ 40,000 workers. Lewis was testifying on mine safety to a house committee when Krug issued the order at the interior department.

Accuses Krug of Lying "I point out," the United Mine Workers chief said, "that Secretary Krug is doing now what he should have done ever since the safety code became effective. He's starting to enforce his own code—but after 111 men died at Centralia."

Lewis then demanded: "What should the United Mine Workers do now? He continued: "If we must grind up human flesh and bones in the industrial machine that we call modern America then before God I assert that those who consume the coal and are made comfortable by it owe protection to those men first, and owe security to their widows and children."

"I say it. I voice it. I proclaim it. And I care not who in heaven or hell opposes it."

At one point, Lewis accused Krug of "lying" and demanded "that he be removed from his high office."

Recalling the work agreement which he signed last year with Krug, he said: "We knew that the coal operators wouldn't keep the mines safe. . . . That's the reason why we asked Krug to do it."

"He promised me, didn't he? or did he? Why, he signed it with me at the White House under the klieg lights and the miners believed him. They didn't know he was lying. They know now that he was lying and they are joining me in demanding that he be removed from his high office."

Asked by Rep. Kearns (R-Pa.) whether private owners carried out safety measures better than the government, Lewis replied: "No worse."

Termed "Death Traps" The UMW chief added quickly "that doesn't excuse the government, but for not enforcing its own contract terms."

This was reference to a mine safety code provision in the UMW contract with the government. Frequently emphasizing his remarks by banging his fist on a table, Lewis called the mines "death traps" and declared that "every man who goes to work in a coal mine will be statistically killed or injured every six years."

Blood Bank For County Is Proposed

Red Cross representatives from Salem, East Liverpool, East Palestine and Wheeling met in the Memorial building here Tuesday to consider plans for organizing a civilian blood bank for Columbiana county.

L. L. Mishey, Red Cross eastern area field worker from Alexandria, Va., addressed the group. No definite plans were formulated, but several ideas were expressed in regard to a possible permanent set-up. It was particularly stressed that the R.H. blood type be featured in all blood recruiting programs, because it is the most difficult to obtain.

In the near future a second meeting will be held to discuss further plans.

Baptist Young People Plan Sunday Program

An Easter evening service is being arranged by the young people of the First Baptist church at 7:45 p. m. Sunday.

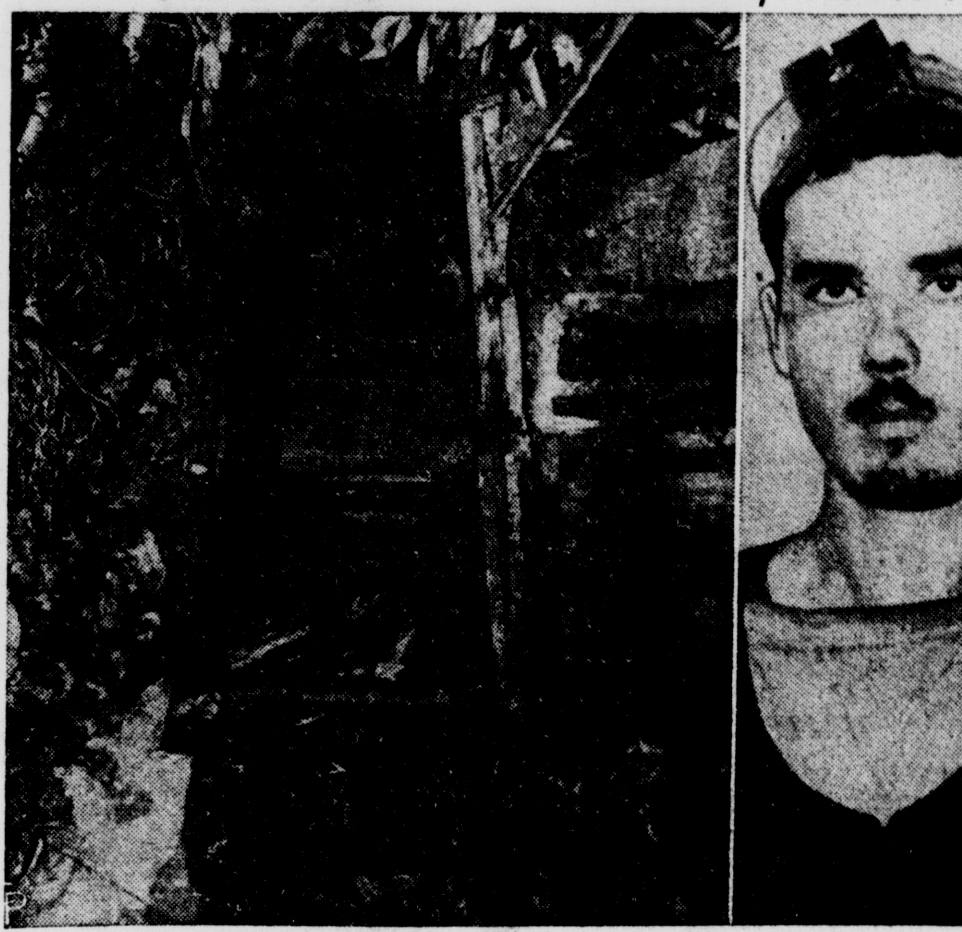

The rite of baptism will be administered to several candidates for church membership.

Rev. Louis Raymond, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Granville, and a senior at Denison university, will preach the sermon, using for his theme, "Our Sacred Trust."

Miss Donna Lou Getz will sing a solo, "The Holy City." Treva Bush and Donna Schoss will contribute a vocal duet.

Walter Taylor and Lee Sproat also will have part in the service.

Ohio Cave Dweller Hides From Army Four Years

Captured by an armed posse, after spending three years and eight months in a hillside cave (left), one mile southeast of Dennison, O., 25-year-old Pvt. Patrick Lehigh (right) is in Tuscarawas county jail at New Philadelphia, where he will be turned over to Fort Hayes military police. In his well-camouflaged cave, which had an 18-inch-square opening, Lehigh secured food at the nearby home of his grandmother, went without baths and cut his own hair. When FBI agents, sheriffs and police arrested him at his grandmother's home, Lehigh declared, "I'm glad they found me, for I've wanted to go back but have been afraid to."

Oswiecim Camp Commandant Must Die For Nazi Killings

(By Associated Press) WARSAW, April 3—Rudolf Hoess must pay with his own life for more than 4,000,000 lives snuffed out at Oswiecim (Auschwitz) extermination camp in the two and a half years he was Nazi commandant there.

The 47-year-old ex-colonel, on trial for three weeks, was sentenced to death last night by the nine-judge Polish supreme national tribunal.

The condemned man, wearing a green German officer's uniform, was calm and attentive as he listened through headphones to the hour-long reading of the judgment.

Hoess is permitted a ask President Boleslaw Bierut for clemency, but even should he do so this seemed certain to be denied. No date was set for the execution.

Blames Superiors In the trial, the prosecution accused Hoess of supervising the gassing and cremation of some 3,000,000 Jews and 1,000,000 other men, women and children from a dozen countries — including Poland, Russia, Hungary, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Czechoslovakia — at the camp in southwestern Poland, 32 miles west of Krakow.

Hoess, commandant at Oswiecim from mid-1941 to the end of 1943, questioned this figure. He said he could count only 2,500,000 victims. He took responsibility for carrying out the exterminations, but blamed superiors for institution of the policy.

Hoess, who has a wife and five children in Germany, told the tribunal once that he would have thrown them all into the Oswiecim

Maundy Thursday Rites Held In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, April 3—Three great religions—Christian, Moslem and Jewish—held ceremonies today in this Holy city to commemorate events revered by their millions of faithful.

Western Christians — Roman Catholics and Protestants—celebrated the day as Maundy Thursday, harking back to Jesus Christ's last supper with His apostles before His betrayal in the garden of Gethsemane and His crucifixion on Calvary.

Moslems began prayers for the feast of Nebi Musa—the prophet Moses, honored by them as well as by Christians and Jews—to lead up to a pilgrimage to the prophet's shrine in the desert near Herico and the Dead Sea in commemoration of His death.

Jews cleansed homes and utensils in preparation for their "Seder" feasts at sunset tomorrow opening the eight-day Passover.

The War Dead

Fewer Than 1,000 Families Reply To Offer To Bring Bodies Back

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 3—Should the remains of Americans who died abroad in World War II be brought home for burial?

Their families are not making a snap decision on this, but three fourths of those the government has heard from say yes.

Congress has authorized bringing the bodies back to this country at government expense if the relatives desire.

The War department Quartermaster corps sent out its first 20,000 letters of inquiry to the next of kin of soldiers, sailors and marines early in March.

So far it has had fewer than 1,000 replies. But more than 75 per cent of these want the dead to lie in U. S. ground.

Will Begin In Fall

Maj. Gen. Thomas B. Larkin, the quartermaster general, is charged with the responsibility of carrying out the repatriation program. He had hoped to see it begin in August. But now it is believed it will be September or October before it starts.

This is because of difficulty in getting a supply of steel caskets, locating the next of kin—many of whom have moved—and the seeming indecision of the living.

That families take their time to decide — talk it over the relatives and the clergy, if desired—is approved by the War department. It is seen as a question not to be turned to WAR DEAD, Page 8

Reds 'Sabotaging' U. S., Johnston Says

PHILADELPHIA, April 3—The Soviet Union stood accused today of "sabotaging" the United Nations and Eric Johnston declared it is up to the international body to determine whether Russia wants world union or world revolution.

At a rally of the United Nations Council of Philadelphia, the former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce asserted that "Russia has been the chief culprit in undermining the United Nations."

Through use of "obstructive policies," Johnston asserted, the Russians so weakened U. N. that it was "powerless" to aid Greece and Turkey, thus forcing the United States to take the initial step.

Johnston, new president of the Motion Picture Association of America, said of Russia: "She has not joined the related organizations of the United Nations, such as UNESCO, the Food and Agricultural organization and the International Labor organization."

"Neither has become associated with the International bank or the International Monetary fund. These and other agencies were set up to promote political understanding and world economic recovery."

Long Live Somebody!

The death of King George II, the on-again-off-again king of the Hellenes, adds fresh uncertainties to a situation composed exclusively of stale, familiar uncertainties.

The late king, in his professional role, was never more than the best of a poor lot. He was used more than once as a symbol to rally the Greeks, but the vicissitudes of his times had robbed him of what little strength he possessed as a symbol.

His successor, Prince Paul, will be no stronger. It is not a matter of individuals, but of a monarchic tradition that has come apart at the seams. The Greeks want many things—some of them even seem to want domination by Russia—but there is nothing in their desires about a king. George, now Paul, soon someone else can be presented only as the lesser of evils. The monarch has no strength in himself.

The United States, which wants to help the Greeks maintain what is left of their tattered sovereignty, because that seems the logical way to create a bastion against Russia's drive toward the Mediterranean, was embarrassed by King George, whose restoration was a British idea. It will be embarrassed by King Paul, unless something happens to make it look as if there was more behind the Greek monarch than the intervention of a foreign power.

Movie Fan Would Know

There was a general ruffling of dictionaries after Sir Carl Berendsen of New Zealand told the United Nations trusteeship council that he would not "burke" a discussion on western Samoa. Orthodox, quiescent in recent months, recalled nothing like it since the late President Roosevelt, throwing a high hard one at a press conference, used "discombobulate."

"To burke" is a perfectly good word, although it hasn't been used much since David's time. William Burke of Edinburgh, whose grim career was memorialized by Boris Karloff in a macabre film titled "The Body Snatchers," was a specialist in the business of killing by strangulation or smothering and selling his victims' bodies to medical students. Thus, "to burke" means to suppress or suffocate without a trace of violence.

The etymology of "burke," like that of "lynch" and "boycott," traces back to a family name. It's a handy word to have around these days when there is a lot of burking in the dark hallways of the world.

Franco Stands Alone

Francisco Franco's declaration that Spain still is a monarchy, even though it has had no king for 16 years, does nothing to change the status of Spain. El Caudillo will continue to rule. If a successor should be named during Franco's lifetime, he will be a monarch cast in the mold prescribed by Franco.

Franco's statement is based on a desire to build Spain's world prestige. As things stand, the once-proud empire of Ferdinand and Isabella doesn't even play a second fiddle in the concert of nations. Even so little a thing as participation in United Nations councils would allow Franco's partisans to feel that they were not world pariahs.

Franco's statement doesn't change Spanish policy in any way. Spain is as much a fascist police state as it was in the days when it was teetering on the brink of joining the Axis powers in war. Exigencies of the times have caused it to soft-pedal some of its practices but, as in past years, the only Spaniard who can call his soul his own is an exiled Spaniard.

Franco says the rest of the world finally has joined him in a loathing of communism. That is true, but what Franco stands for is in no greater esteem.

The John L. Lewis Touch

John L. Lewis has no equal as a showman in the rough-and-tumble art of collective bargaining. His Centralia "memorial" this week is a gesture that will give him tremendous personal prestige at relatively little expense to members of his union or to the coal-consuming public. He still has the touch that made him the ace union strategist.

Tuesday, the first day of the work-suspension period, already has been proclaimed a holiday—John Mitchell Day. Thursday—Maundy Thursday—is a light-work day among miners, as is Good Friday. Saturday, the day before Easter, customarily is a semi-holiday. That leaves Wednesday as the only nominally full day of production to be lost all week.

This will be obscured by general alarm over the latest recent demonstration of the mine czar's personal power. It will appear that he has closed the mines for a week. There will be a new outbreak of demands for the government to do something drastic about John L. Lewis, which is what he thrives on. That will induce a resurgence of admiration among coal miners, whose loyalty to the president of their union grows in direct proportion to public annoyance generated by his defiance of the government and the mine owners.

Mr. Lewis always has been about as much of a problem in popular psychology as in the economics of coal mining—and his Centralia "memorial" shows him at his best.

ALTHOUGH a sudden and soul stirring reversal of events may seem to turn the current of affairs into highly gratifying and productive channels, with high heart and spirits rising to plunge into fresh and aggressive action, yet this course of procedure would but complicate and tangle the status quo.

An undercurrent of trickery, schemes and sinister nature, might aggravate a difficult situation, with dire and far-reaching results on health, standing, funds and plans. A serene, sagacious and brilliant course might produce cherished desires and hopes materialized.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of startling and dramatic experiences, in which a swift and abrupt change might appear to be the open sesame to plans and purposes already off to a good start.

Nevertheless there is a strange and sinister underlying current, alluring and challenging, designed to undermine and devastate seeming benign and progressive denouements.

Alert to these, and with quick grasp of duplicity and false alarms, much might be reaped in establishing programs and plans of radical importance.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Two Distressing Infections

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Everyone should realize that while penicillin and the sulfonamide drugs are wonder-workers against certain kinds of germs, they are completely helpless against others. Whether or not they will cure an infection depends on whether the infection is caused by the germs which they attack.

Thus, while they have been splendidly useful in treating some infections of the kidney and bladder, when it comes to others the doctor must look elsewhere for an effective weapon.

Infection of Bladder

Cystitis or infection of the bladder and pyelitis or infection of that part of the kidney where the excretions collect before they pass into the bladder, may be resistant to penicillin or sulfonamide drugs.

Pyelitis and cystitis cause such symptoms as slight fever, pain and burning on emptying of the bladder and sometimes discomfort to the back. The urine is found to contain many white blood cells. This condition can be diagnosed by an examination of the urine and by the symptoms which it produces.

Drs. Grayson Carroll and Hollis M. Allen of St. Louis, Missouri have treated 200 patients with these urinary infections with a cure in approximately three-fourths of them. The average time of treatment required to get rid of all of the germs in the urine was about six days. Some of the patients were relieved in three days while others it took as long as two weeks.

Their treatment consisted in giving tablets made up of mandelic acid and methenamine. The tablets were given by mouth four times daily, after meals and before going to bed. No changes were made in the patient's diet nor was the amount of fluids he took altered. It is encouraging to note that of 104 of the patients in whom the infection was caused by colon bacilli, more than eight out of every ten improved with the treatment. In some instances the infection was caused by staphylococci and streptococci.

Reactions to Drug

In only three cases were there reactions to the drug. These consisted in one case, of sickness to the stomach without vomiting, and severe burning on emptying of the bladder in two cases. There was no evidence of any injury to the kidney as a result of use of these preparations.

From these observations it would appear that this preparation is quite effective in overcoming many infections in the kidney and the bladder. Furthermore, it can be safely used with little danger that any reactions will occur.

Of course, in every infection of this type the physician will want to make studies to determine the kind of germ present so that he can decide upon the best form of treatment. This shows once again the dangers of attempts at self-treatment and demonstrates why it is always better to consult a doctor in time of illness.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

College Girls Are Urged To Smarten Up Some

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—The 1947 college girl should be a hep chick as well as a slick chick.

That is the view of Helen Manley, president of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

According to Miss Manley, the beautiful but dumb phase is over. From now on, the college sweetheart should:

1. Speak and write English well.
2. Know how to organize material and outline written articles.
3. Have a speaking knowledge of a foreign language.
4. Understand the scientific method (Whatever that is.)
5. Know the history of our social economy.
6. Know how to maintain healthful living.

After that, Miss College Jane of 1947 can make herself beautiful for her light of love.

Of course, Miss Manley admits, if the girls use many of the above techniques on current male undergraduates, they're apt to do their research in aloof solitude.

But it's all for progress.

High Prices of All Food Fail To Hold Down U. S. Consumption

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 3 — Keen American appetites for plenty of good food—and a willingness to pay for it—are helping to hold farm prices at high levels.
The Agriculture department so reported today, adding that this heavy domestic demand is getting considerable assistance from expectations that exports may be larger than anticipated and "speculative buying" in the grain markets.
Officials said that despite a substantial increase in food prices since most price controls were dropped, the per capita consumption—particularly of meats, poultry products, milk and vegetables—continues above pre-war levels.
Consumers are able to eat well, the department declared, because today income payments are at record peacetime levels and are still rising.

Downward Trend Forecast
This being the situation, the department said farm prices should hold at "high levels during the next few months." However, the agency did not alter a previous forecast that prices will turn downward during the second half of the year, possibly as much as 20 per cent.
The prediction of a decline was based largely upon expectations of a slight industrial recession in the latter part of the year.
Reflecting favorable farm prices, agricultural income for the first four months of this year is expected to total $7,700,000,000 compared with $6,100,000,000 during the same period last year.

The department said meat animal prices will average about 55 per cent above a year ago, dairy products about 33 per cent above, and all crops about 17 per cent above.

Early Watches
Watches were invented during the fifteenth century. They were small clocks, however, and were suspended from a girdle about the owner's waist.

Fire Shows Security Of Independence Hall

PHILADELPHIA — "Twelve bells and all is well" in Philadelphia.
Independence Hall night watchmen at the completion of each hourly round of inspection must telephone City Hall and pass along the word that "all is well."
A recent fire across the street from the hallowed shrine of American Liberty disclosed the extensive fire alarm system which protects the venerable building.
The Hall is equipped with its own fire alarm—Box 1776. It has an automatic sprinkler system and numerous hand extinguishers at strategic points.
Guards are put through periodic fire drills. One of their major tasks in event of a real emergency would be to wheel the Liberty Bell to a safe location.
The striking of Box 1776 would bring four fire companies within a minute, fire officials said.
Smoking is prohibited throughout the building.

The original pronunciation of "geyser," which is an Icelandic word, was "geeser." This was later changed to "gayer" and finally Americanized to "gyser."

Life Begins At Fifty For Woman Painter

NEW YORK—The case of Ernestine Livers is an example that life can begin at 50.
Until three years ago, she was just another society woman with no interest in art. Now she has had her first show at the Niveau gallery, exhibiting 15 oils of impressionistic style that astonished critics and artists alike.
It all seems like a dream, she says. Three years ago, the doctors advised her husband to take up painting as a hobby. Ernestine decided to try her hand at it simultaneously. Her husband gave it up after a few weeks. But it was just the beginning for her.
Mrs. Livers works daily — from early morning until late in the afternoon in her mid-Manhattan studio—turning out landscapes, portraits, still-life and genre pictures.
"I am a free woman no more," she remarked. "I am a happy slave. Painting gave my life a fullness I had never known before. It all came so suddenly and strangely. I am still unable to understand . . . summer."

* WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT
WHAT are we trying to do to teenagers, anyhow? The whole trend today seems to be toward shoving them into a private little world of their own.

It started with the teenage canteens that sprang up all over the country. Somehow or other the adults decided that teenagers ought to spend their leisure hours in cozy little nooks, in the exclusive company of other teenagers.

Then we ballyhooed the sloppy dress of a minority of teenagers, until the girls began to think they had to wear Dad's old shirts over blue jeans or be clear out of the picture.

Every time a teenager thought up a new slang word or phrase we played it up, until they felt they had to keep on inventing an ugly or silly word for everything—so they could have a language exclusively their own. Then educators started to tell us that if we want to understand our kids we must learn to speak "their language."

Whenever a few kids discover a "new idol" the publicity starts, and pretty soon the teenagers begin to feel they have to join the idiot fringe of idol worshippers.

We've given the adolescents their own magazines, their own newspaper columns, played them up on the stage and screen.

Social Situations

THE SITUATION: You are about to relate a confidence with the phrase, "I really shouldn't tell you this but..."

WRONG WAY: Go right ahead, feeling your introduction will put you in the clear.

RIGHT WAY: Decide to keep still about the matter. If you feel it necessary to use the phrase, then don't tell the confidence.

Special music and services are planned for each of the churches Easter Sunday beginning with a union sunrise service in the Christian church at 6:30 a. m.

COLUMBIANA PARK AREA TO BE ZONED

COLUMBIANA, April 3 — City council Tuesday evening instructed Solicitor R. G. Oakes to draft a zoning ordinance establishing restrictions for the area adjacent to Firestone park.

The action resulted from the failure of council to reach a cooperative agreement with Donald Rupert for the installation of water and sewer facilities in the D. J. Miller tract between the park and the Y. & S. railway, which Rupert was about to purchase for a housing project.

Richard Lehman, commander of Benjamin Firestone Post, American Legion, was before council with a request for the use of streets for the annual fair Sept. 4, 5 and 6. Permission was granted with the provision that Main street shall be open if the detour of Routes 7 and 46 traffic is in effect on account of work on the overpass at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing east of town.

Addition Approved

Council approved plans and specifications submitted by Clyde Hoover of the board of public affairs for an addition to the former municipal power house on West st. Additional space is needed for tools and equipment.

Ira Tufts and Walter and Lloyd Crawford were present regarding drainage on that part of Fifth ave. east of Firestone ave. Council will grade the street and provide drainage, property owners to surface it with slag is desired.

A representative of the Youngstown & Southern Railway Co. said the company would co-operate with the municipality in clearing the channel of the ditch, partly on town property and partly on railroad property from near E. Friend st. to the Pennsylvania railroad. The channel was cleared with a steam shovel about four years ago.

Mayor K. T. Gormley appointed a committee to study wage schedules of neighboring municipalities of comparable size with a view of possibly equalizing wages of municipal employees at a level to correspond. On the committee are R. J. Barrow and J. K. Harding, representing council; Clyde Hoover, board of affairs; Charles E. Keller, cemetery board, and Walter Miller, park board.

Spoils Of War: 236 Tons Of Paper

Experts Wading Through Scientific Documents Unearthed In Germany: Nazi Ideas Are Valuable Loot For U. S. A.

In Germany, Nazi scientists helped American intelligence officers dig up buried trunks of secret blueprints (above) that added up to 472,417 pounds of valuable paper now being unpacked for study (right) at the Army's Wright Field in Dayton.

By JAMES HELBERT

DAYTON, O. — Army Air Force experts at Wright field are up to their ears in 472,417 pounds of paper. They call it the most valuable spoils of war ever to fall to a victorious nation.

That paper was gleaned bit by bit from hiding places throughout Nazi Germany. It contains the wild hopes and engineering dreams of German scientists fighting against defeat. In it are top German plans for round-the-world glider-bombers, parachutes with holes in them, a sun gun designed to boil dry the harbors of the world, and hundreds of other designs.

Some ideas are fantastic and impracticable; some are excellent. Army, Navy and civilian technicians believe these documents, coupled with the U. S. head start on atomic energy and other undisclosed technical developments will keep this nation far in the front for years in both air defense and offense.

Some of these 236 tons of blueprints were found as the Allies fought across Germany. Others were unearthed by Army Intelligence teams poking into factories and cemeteries, under beds and into laundry bags.

RUSSIANS UNINTERESTED

Director of the Wright Field scientific searching party until recently was Col. Donald L. Putt, now deputy chief of engineering for Air Materiel Command, who said, "Above all else, these documents reveal that nothing was too far-fetched or fantastic for the Germans to consider in their wild drive to snatch victory. So, we, too, are giving all their plans careful study. We don't want to overlook a thing that might be of possible benefit to this country."

Curiously enough, the Russians showed little interest in the paper cupping the Fry residence, are now occupying an apartment in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Seederly, S. Elm st.

loot which American scouts so avidly sought.

Not all German scientists came bearing gifts of charts and diagrams to the conquering Yanks. Some wished to bargain first with the British, then with the Russians and finally with Americans in an effort to make the best possible deal. Others, with memories good enough to carry a complicated mathematical formula couldn't for the life of them recall in which one of the Schultz boys' turnip patches they hid the blueprint of the latest pilot-ejector seat.

One top-drawer German who remained clammy was Kurt Tank, chief designer at the famed Focke-Wulf aircraft works. An American team led by Col. Paul Dane questioned Tank. There were no Focke-Wulf documents anywhere, Tank insisted. He had destroyed them all. Just when the Americans were about to give up, a Russian slave laborer told of bricking up a vault nearby. The Yanks knocked down the wall and there inside were all the past, present and future Focke-Wulf blueprints.

Colonel Putt says that discovery of the guided missile plans saved the United States millions of dollars and probably 10 years of trial-and-error research "because the Germans were at least that far ahead of us in that field."

The set of documents which arched airplane designers' eyebrows was specifications for a supersonic, rocket-driven, glider-bomber. This flying battleship was to be shot into the top stratosphere by rockets at a speed of 16,000 miles an hour, where it would glide over a target selected by radar, blast away and soar around the world back to home base in Germany.

So far as is known, the Nazis never built such a craft, nor has the Army or Navy here any idea of doing so. The blueprints are being carefully studied, however, on the theory that some useful principle of aeronautics or mechanics will be uncovered.

Another Nazi device that never got off the drawing board was an airborne bazooka designed to shoot a metal stream at 25,000 feet a second, piercing the heaviest airplane armor.

PEACEFUL USES

AAP is placing as much emphasis on the peaceful, civilian use of captured scientific loot as upon its martial functions. A list of documents, after they are translated and processed, is released regularly for the use of industry, schools and research groups.

A few of the Nazi developments are of such importance to the national defense that they remain classified and only a few men know the contents.

Strangely enough, out of this mass of design for death has come an instrument which eventually may prolong life.

This device is called the phase-contrast microscope and was found by an intelligence team at the famed Carl Zeiss optical works at Jena. American lens experts call it the most important development in their field in 50 years, because it brings out in sharpest detail the facts of animal and plant cell life.

With the vivid life story of a disease germ unfolding under the phase-contrast microscope, scitists believe important steps in chemistry, physics, biology and health will be made possible.

Girls Want Glamor Jobs, But Many Want Husbands

BOSTON—Of 467 girls interviewed for admission to one Boston vocational school, all but eight said they would like to marry as soon as possible after graduation.

Why a vocational school, they were asked, if their primary goal was marriage?

In most cases, the answer was that the girls wanted to spend the interim before marriage in "some well-paid job in a glamorous field."

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, April 3—The size of your rent is at stake in what congress is doing right now. Here is the story, but go back a second to bring it up to date. Congress voted rent controls early in the war. It went into effect in June 1942. Each succeeding year congress voted to continue the control another year. I did that last year. The present rent control law expires June 30 unless congress votes to continue it. Real estate and home-building people have been urging congress to throw rent control out entirely. Not President Truman. He has asked congress to continue it another year after June 30. He didn't say so in so many words, but he made it clear he thinks housing is so scarce that an effort to control will shoot rents up. But congress is working on what to do about continuing the controls. It can do one of several things:

1. End controls.
2. Continue them as they are.
3. Allow general increases for landlords everywhere.
4. Pass a law too weak to mean anything.
5. Continue controls a few months or a full year.

Congress seems likely to continue controls a while, anyway. But in what form? No one can say.

The work on rent control is being done by two congressional committees: The house and senate banking committees. Their job is to work out rent control bills upon which the full house and senate can vote. The senate committee has completed its job. It has okayed a bill to do this:

1. Continue controls another year after June 30.
2. Let citizen groups in about 650 areas decide where, and if, rents should be increased or controls ended in their areas.

The senate bill will lie around now till the full senate gets a chance to vote for it as is or change it. It's a little different in the house committee. That committee, behind closed doors, has okayed a bill to boost all rents 10 per cent. It would also wipe out almost every present government control on building materials and new buildings. When the house committee finally approves a bill that will go to the full house for a vote. The house, like the senate, will vote for, or change, the bill its committee sends up. If house and senate vote for different bills, both houses will have to appoint a special committee to work out a bill which both can approve. So the size of your rent for the next year still is up in the air. But you'll soon learn the answer.

Man Accidentally Imprisoned Under Tower Five Days, Is Rescued

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 3—A 59-year-old homeless man, accidentally imprisoned five days without food or water in a room just beneath the city hall tower, was rescued today. The man, who identified himself as John Crelier, was discovered by a city employee who went to the tower to repair a broken flag rope. Crelier, hungry and thirsty, collapsed and was removed to a hospital. His condition was reported satisfactory. He said he had gone there one day last week to sleep because he had no other place to go. He was uncertain what day it was but Arthur Flannery, a city maintenance worker, said he locked the iron gridded door leading to the tower last Friday. The door had remained locked until today. "I know I cried a little," Crelier said, "walked the floor and slept as much as possible. I finally gave up and was resigned to die in that hole."

Taps a Cantata

Frank Grandstaff, life-term convict, composed a three-part cantata, "Big Spring," in his cell at Nashville, Tenn., which critics called "near perfect" after its first performance at Big Spring, Tex. Lacking a musical instrument, Grandstaff pounded out the notes with a pencil on his cell walls.

NEWARK, N. J. April 3—Ben Zuckerman had a gun. But the burglar had his pants.

The pursuit lasted only to the front door of Zuckerman's home and there modestly overcame valor.

Death Bed Words Excluded in Trial

LISBON, April 3—Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp today ruled out a death bed statement introduced in the trial of Erwin Brown, 38, Iron-dale brickyard employee charged with killing his wife and an unemployed pottery worker.

The statement, allegedly taken from Brown's wife, Beulah, 30, just before her death in a hospital, said "Erwin shot me."

Judge Sharp refused to admit it as evidence on grounds it had not been read back to the woman and was not signed.

Mrs. Brown and Brady Petty, 57, were shot in a rooming house on Dec. 14. Petty apparently died instantly while Mrs. Brown crawled from the house and was taken to a hospital.

Mrs. Ada Hall, an 87-year-old invalid who was the only other person in the house at the time, has since died.

The trial opened yesterday.

Bender Asks Investigation Of Nazi Loot In Turkey

WASHINGTON, April 3—An explanation of "Nazi looted gold and Nazi assets in Turkey" should be given by the State department before the house votes on proposed aid to Greece and Turkey, Rep. Bender (R-Ohio) suggested yesterday.

Bender declared that Turkey "apparently now has some 75 millions of dollars of gold which the Nazis stole from Belgium and Holland."

He said the State department had requested that Turkey turn the "looted Nazi gold" over to the United States as partial reparations. So far, the Ohio congressman said, nothing of this kind had been done.

Present Memorial Gifts At Presbyterian Rites

Robert McBane, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. McKee gave the church a new communion service in memory of their sister, the late Miss Agnes Wilson. The third gift was a new set of offering plates.

Rev. Molyneux used the subject, "The Dying Thief."

The Haviland choir furnished special music.

This church will observe Holy Communion at 8 tonight, after which there will be a reception for the communicant's class.

Members of the class are: Mary Jane Bergman, Mary Steffel, Harvey Mason, Nancy Diehl, Marcy Vaughn, Thomas Zimmerman, Shirley Mason, James Johnston, Sally Hurlburt, Douglas Pedersen, Pauline Long, Robert Campbell, Patricia Keyes and Marilyn Burns.

Warns of 'Bus'

THE PRESIDENT of the National Association of Manufacturers, Earl Bunting, is pictured in New York during a press conference as he emphasized that government, management and labor must work in close co-operation to resist increased costs and prices to the public. Fireworks Plant Blast Fatal To Ten

CLINTON, Mo., April 3—An explosion and gunpowder-fed fire destroyed a fireworks manufacturing plant yesterday, burning to death 11 of the 28 employees working in the one story frame building and injuring four.

One of the injured was in a critical condition. Ten of the victims died in the explosion and fire and the 11th succumbed in a Clinton hospital.

The workers were making toy buzz bombers in the Brown Manufacturing Co. for Fourth of July sale. Shortly after the blast, the cause of which was not known, flames were so intense that firemen were unable to get closer than 100 yards from the building.

All of those who died were between 50 and 70 years old.

The bodies were burned almost beyond recognition.

WAR DEAD

answered quickly or without thought. America's overseas dead in the first World war totaled about 51,000 of whom nearly 60 per cent were brought home for burial.

In World War II the toll was 285,000. About 25,000 bodies have not been recovered.

To Release Burial Lists The War Department estimated that 80 per cent of the relatives would want remains returned.

It is possible this estimate may be revised downward.

Within the next week or ten days, the War department plans to release a list of those buried in Hawaii; St. Laurent, France; Henri Chapelle, Belgium; Cambridge, England; Nettuno, Italy; Gela, Sicily; and at Casablanca, Gafsa and Tunis, North Africa. The first bodies will be brought back from these areas.

The present intention is to return first the bodies of soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines buried at Hawaii, the target of the first bombs to fall on American territory in the last war. A few days later shiploads will be coming in from Europe.

269 Temporary Cemeteries America's war dead from battles on land and sea through North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France and Germany and the islands in the Pacific have been buried in 269 temporary cemeteries.

Some of these cemeteries will be made into permanent resting places for those whose relatives decide against bringing them back to this country.

In this decision the War department is neutral. But a new army movie short, "Decision," which shows a family going through the return of a loved one, seeks to warn what the strain will be.

Mrs. George Patton does not intend to disturb the grave of the colorful Third army commander, who died in an automobile accident in Germany and was buried at Hamm, Luxembourg.

In a "Letter To the American People" published in the Congressional Record she said "what will come home to you isn't what you remember and love."

Ohio School Bill Heads Toward Possible Reduction

COLUMBUS, April 3.—The Daniels-Cramer school bill, pared from more than $100,000,000 to $88,000,000 a year during its trip through the senate, headed today towards possible further cuts in the house.

The senate by a vote of 32 to 3 passed the controversial measure yesterday, and Chairman Dan S. Yoder (R-Wayne) of the house education committee said his group would start hearings on it next Wednesday.

Representatives have indicated they would seek to trim the school foundation appropriation closer to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert's recommendation of $80,000,000 a year for the biennium.

Suit Filed To Enforce Cemetery Maintenance

An action in equity has been filed in common pleas court at Lisbon by the Hart's Cemetery association, against Charles Hart, Charles Wilhelm and Simon Koonitz, trustees of Salem township.

Object of the action is to compel the township trustees to take over and care for two tracts of land in Salem township.

The petitioners declare the association approved a resolution last May to turn over the cemetery to the township trustees, also all monies in an endowment fund.

The Cemetery association was organized in May, 1929, and the burial plot is located on the Salem-Lisbon road, about five miles south of Salem.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE

OCRAOKE, N. C., April 2.—"Big Ike" O'Neal can still hear the sea, but it doesn't say anything to him anymore.

"Ain't done a stroke of work for 11 years now," said "Big Ike," sitting in a rocker in the weathered frame house where he lives now, a sailor home from the waves.

He still tells his hours by a fine old cathedral clock he paid $2.50 for 59 years ago. Almost 82, "Big Ike" is one of the few veterans of the era of sail left on this small island off the North Carolina coast, part of the "outer banks" which seamen know as the Graveyard of the Atlantic.

Time has chipped away some of "Big Ike's" 240 pounds but hasn't bent his six-foot-three frame. Nor has it slowed his fondness for "yearning" about the days that are gone, when the Hatteras shoals seized rich ships and turned them into sea skeletons.

I'm glad to see you—or anybody else for that matter," said "Big Ike" the night I called on him. "I can't talk so well, because I'm using somebody else's teeth. I bought 'em all right. But they ain't really my own teeth. That's why I say I'm using somebody else's teeth."

And "Big Ike's" laugh set the window curtains waving on the other side of the room. O'Neal has been a sailor between the coast and the West Indies, a fisherman, a coast guard, a game warden and carried the U. S. mail.

"I got the measles on my first trip at sea as a 14-year-old boy," he said, "and cured myself by drinking a keg of water. Only medicine we had on board. In the West Indies then we paid two cents for a drink of rum. The wooden cups held half a pint. Some of our boys never came back alive."

Two events that stand out in his crowded memory are the first time he ever ate white flour bread and the night the duck flew in through his cottage floor.

I was eleven years old and never tasted anything but corn meal," he said. My brother and a fellow bought a barrel of flour in New York, paid ten dollars for it. We spread a sheet out on the floor, rolled the barrel on it and divided the barrel by sawing it in half. The flour was packed so tight it didn't even crumble or spill.

You know I didn't sleep at all that night, wondering what flour bread would taste like in the morning."

It was in "the big storm or 18 and 99" that "Big Ike" had his locally famous encounter with the mysterious duck.

"Longest storm we ever had—lasted from Tuesday afternoon to Friday night," he said. "Had nothing butny oliskins on, and there were three or four families in the house—children crying, women screaming, men praying, and water rising outside."

I was afraid the house would float right off its blocks. I thought if I opened a hole in the kitchen it would equalize the pressure, and help hold the house down.

"I took my ax, hit it a lick. I pulled up a plank, the water slopped in and a big white duck flew up and didn't stop until he hit the ceiling. He was quacking as loud as God would let him."

"I was more than skeered. I caught the duck and put him in a box, but I didn't have any appetite for him then. Didn't cook him until the storm was over."

Teacher Calls Her Shots And Recitals Come Off

PRATT, Kan.—Woman's intuition? Or just plain luck?

Mrs. Marie Brickel, a piano teacher, divided her pupils into two groups for recitals on succeeding Sundays—in the midst of the March influenza season.

During the two-week period more than half Mrs. Brickel's pupils were ill with the flu.

But—The singing ones the first Sunday were all of the group due to perform the second Sunday, and those sick the second Sunday were from the ranks of the pupils who had appeared on the first Sunday's program.

Both recitals went off as scheduled.

New York Central Line To Build In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, April 3.—The Cleveland Plain Dealer said today the New York Central system planned to construct a multi-million dollar building here as an addition to the downtown terminal tower group.

The structure, the newspaper said it had learned, is expected to be about 18 stories and to cost between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000.

In New York, President Gustav Metzger of the New York Central declared: "I don't know anything about such a building."

Campaign Against Shipping Losses

Waste of merchandise during the year 1946 represented a loss of $25,000,000 to the nation, as that amount was paid out for claim payments by the carriers enough money to purchase nearly 40,000 box cars.

With the loss and damage to freight at a high level, the nation's shippers and receivers, and the railroads, will join forces during the month of April in a determined and continuous campaign against the causes of this economic waste.

The thirteen Regional Shippers' Advisory boards, cooperating with the railroads, the Railway Express Agency, and other transportation and shipping interests, will take an active part in the campaign.

The Allegheny Regional Advisory board will sponsor a number of meetings in their territory and will stress intensified effort on the part of all to reduce loss and damage in shipping. The railroads and construction program of analysis, education and improvement with a view to ensuring careful handling of freight in transit.

Ireland Minister Quits

WASHINGTON, April 3 — David Gray, minister to Ireland, resigned today.

His cabled resignation, effective July 1, was accepted by President Truman. Gray attributed his action to "personal reasons."

Souvenirs Of War

They Write Tragic Headlines Every Day That Pose Big Problem In Nation's Peacetime Battle Against Crime

By NEA Service

NEW YORK. —It's only a little story, buried at the bottom of the page with the headline "Souvenir Gun Kills Pal."

Or maybe it says something about a revolver somebody brought home from war being used in a holdup. The story has a variety of settings, sometimes a holdup, sometimes an accident, sometimes the eternal triangle. But hardly a day passes that one of those stories doesn't involve wartime firearms.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, although it does not keep statistics on the number of souvenir weapons and service arms involved in crime, says through a spokesman that the use of such weapons "has been a very serious problem in the attempts of the local police and the FBI to reduce crime."

New York tried to do something about it. A plea to servicemen to turn in such weapons netted 1800 guns of all types last winter—a small haul in comparison to the number which continues to show up in crimes and accidents.

And New York authorities, frankly, don't know what to do with the weapons once they get them. Even if they render a gun harmless, from a shooting standpoint, and turn it back to the owner, he can get mixed up in a misdemeanor charge unless the gun is registered and a permit issued.

Lethal souvenirs: New York police property clerk John A. Flick looks down the sights of a German sub-machine gun over some of the 1800 souvenir firearms turned in by servicemen. But countless weapons like this, not turned in, make a continuing problem for police, not only in New York but everywhere in the nation.

The suburban city of Yonkers, faced with the same problem, has decided to enlist competitive spirit in eliminating the weapons.

There, a month-long campaign has just begun to get owners of souvenir guns and service arms to turn them into a veterans' organization of their choice. The veterans' post which assembles the best collection will get a $50 bond as a prize from Yonkers Safety Commissioner Patrick O'Hara.

The police department will have its own exhibition (with no prizes involved) for those who want to by-pass veterans' posts. As fast as they're turned in for display, the weapons will be made harmless, and when the contest is over, will remain in police custody.

This, they hope, will go a long way toward taking the word "souvenir" out of shooting headlines.

Soggy Fairways Greet Field Of 57 In Masters Tournament

BEN HOGAN, OTHER TOP PROS, INCLUDED IN ENTRANCE LIST

Last Year's Winner, Herman Kaiser Paired With Bobby Jones

By CHICK HOSCH
AUGUSTA, Ga., April 3.—Soggy fairways greeted a field of 57 of the 11th annual Masters tournament which began with a half dozen players sharing the role of favorite.

Heavy rains of the past few days prevented cutting of the fertile, rolling 6,800-yard national course and left casual water in many spots. A bridge on the 12th hole was still under water yesterday.

Established in the favorite's niche were Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., the runner-up last year and in 1942; Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., the year's leading money winner; Bobby Locke, the South African champion; Lew Worsham of Washington, D.C., a younger listed eighth in total money won; Herman Barron of White Plains, N.Y., and Carey Midgoff of Memphis, a gangling young dentist who turned pro last month.

Sammy Sneed of Hot Springs, Va., was five under par yesterday while Locke was even par on their hurried practice jaunt over the layout.

Herman Kaiser of Akron, O., the defending champion, was paired with the famous Bobby Jones, co-designer of the course, in today's competition, which called for the first contestants to tee off at noon.

Training Camp Notes

(By Associated Press)
PHOENIX, Ariz., April 3.—Manager Mel Ott was going around with a big smile today and no one was begrudging the little Giant manager one of the few happy moments he has had in a long time.

Fitching is the Giants' big "if" and you wouldn't guess it by the way the New Yorkers' mound corps has been behaving in the last few days.

Yesterday Big Bill Voiselle came through with his record nifty hurling chore in a row when he went the full distance against the Chicago Cubs. The husky, South Carolina right-hander allowed eight hits and was hit hard only in the seventh when the lone Chicago runner crossed the plate. That tally broke a 19 inning scoreless streak put together by the pepped up flinging force.

Voiselle's full roster followed on the heels of the coking 2-0 shut out turned in against the Chicago White Sox by Rookie Bill Ayers, the Southern association prize from Atlanta.

Southpaw Dave Koso and Monte Kennedy and Right-hander Mike Budnick also locked good their last times out.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The St. Louis Cardinals wind up spring training today and hit the trail for home via Houston, Dallas and Kansas City.

The Cardinals released Pitchers Ken Johnson and John Balfour to the Columbus farm club and Pitcher Ray Yochim was assigned to Rochester. Johnson is subject to a 24-hour recall.

Fesler Continues Football Blasting

COLUMBUS, April 3.—Ohio State's new football coach, Wes Fesler, aimed a few sharp blasts today at "southern schools which invade Ohio and Pennsylvania for athletic talent."

Said the Buckeye grid tutor: "Southern school agents are among us constantly. I would advise every Ohio boy to ask four questions for recruiting agents: 'How much chance do I have of getting a good education at your university under your system of football?' 'What happens to this grand scholarship if I get hurt?' 'What happens to my scholarship if I don't quite make the football grade?' 'How much chance do I have of leading normal college life under your system?'"

Fesler indicated the correct reply to the first and fourth questions would be, "none." To the second and third—"dismissal."

PHOENIX, Ariz.—There were reports in Chicago Cub quarters today that the Cubs can have the New York Giant shortstop, Bill Rigney for Catcher Mickey Livingston plus an outfielder, but neither Cub General Manager Jim Gallagher nor Giants Owner Horace Stoneham would say anything about a possible trade.

OHIO STATE TANK TEAM SEEKING 3RD LEG ON GRAND SLAM

Field of Best Included In Event Scheduled At Ohio's Pool

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., April 3.—Ohio State's tank team goes after the third leg of its second straight grand slam Friday and Saturday in the National AAU championship in the Buckeye pool.

Already holders of the Western conference and NCAA crowns, Mike Peppe's proteges were rated an even bet to take the title and round out their second unbeaten season in a row.

Last week, at Seattle, the Bucks triumphed in the NCAA by 27 points over Michigan, but with unattached and club talent certain to pick up points in the AAU this one looks like a tougher test for the Ohio swimmers and divers.

If it is at all close, Ohio may have to rely on its divers to bring home the bunting. Last week Miller Anderson, Bruce Harlan, Jim Strong and Jack Calhoun finished in that order for the Bucks off the springboard.

In addition to the sensational Ohio hopefuls, the field reads like a "Who's Who" in swimming. Among the entrants are Wally Ris, unattached of Iowa City, Ia., winner of last year's and 220-yard freestyle events, and Dick Weinberg of Michigan, first in the 50 and 100 at NCAA.

In fact, all of last year's visitors, with the exception of the Navy's Bob Cowell in the 150-yard backstroke, will be trying to repeat. An international aspect will be offered through the entry of Alex Jany of France and Per Olsson of Sweden, who will compete in the 100-yard freestyle.

'Housesmaid's Knee'
NEW YORK—Surfboard riders of the North Bondi club in Australia have been suffering from "housesmaid's knee" caused by squatting on the boards, says the Australian News Bureau here.

More than a dozen members of the club have complained of sore knees and have received sun lamp treatment. A special knee pad has been devised to prevent further strain on the knees.

Basketball Playoff Opens With Upsets

NEW YORK, April 3.—The Basketball Association of America playoffs started off in upset fashion last night with the Chicago Stags 81-65 triumph over the Washington Capitols the biggest surprise of the three-opening-round contests.

At Cleveland, the Rebels came up with their best game of the year to wallop the New York Knickerbockers 77-51 in the inaugural of the best-of-three third-place playoff. The Philadelphia Warriors, with Joe Pulkis turning in a new unofficial pro scoring record of 1,406 points, turned back the St. Louis Bombers 73-68 as the best-of-three set of the second-place finishers got under way in the Quaker City.

Big Entry Expected In Salem Tourney

A field of 40 teams is expected in the 13th annual Salem Invitational basketball tournament, to be held in the Memorial building next week, according to Ray Reasbeck, who is managing tourney entries during Joe Kelley's absence.

Although not many teams have actually sent in the entry fee, Reasbeck said, more have than in usual, which indicated a near-record field. The custom has been that three-fourths of the squads submit their entry blanks on the final two days before the deadline.

The tournament will get under way Monday night and will run through Saturday.

Inquiries about the affair have been received from Canton Sharon, New Castle, East Liverpool, Chester, Youngstown, Beaver Falls, Cleveland, Cortland, Liberty, Columbiana and Salem.

Included among the teams already entered in the event is a team from Waynesburg, made up of what formerly was the Louisville team. They are former champions of the local tournament.

If the entry list reaches 42 teams, it will require seven games each night for the entire week to finish the tournament. This number is more than Kelley desires for the event, but no teams will be turned down.

The deadline for entries is midnight Saturday.

"I tell you fellows, it's here again!"

"When a robin gets puzzled about whether Spring is here—that's news!"

"And frankly, until now, I was puzzled. The flowers were popping their heads out of the ground, the trees began to look green and alive, and the weather was balmy. But still . . . I wasn't quite sure that Spring was here."

"But when I flew past your store and saw the display of handsome Arrow Shirts and Arrow Ties for Spring, I was convinced!"

"Yessir, folks, surest sign of Spring is when the smart Arrows start blooming!"

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo.—A hot check artist tried to cash a check for $22 but was refused by a suspicious store clerk who summoned the sheriff after the man departed.

The suspect was standing on a street corner a few minutes later when a stranger accosted him.

"Did you finally get your check cashed?" the stranger asked.

"Yes, right down there at that store," the man answered. "Who are you?"

"I'm Bill Brent, the sheriff," said the stranger, leading him off to jail.

FULTON, Mo.—Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harris are grateful to the pilots of two airplanes for saving their farm house. The planes circled the house and had to drop down almost to the level of the second story windows before the Harris family was attracted to the yard. It was then the family discovered the roof was on fire. A quickly formed bucket brigade brought it under control.

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—How to be foxy with foxes comes easy to Conrad H. Wells of Mineral Wells, Wood county.

Wells, without experience in the art of seeking out sly Reynard, went to State Trapper Doy Rollyson for instruction. He listened for four hours.

Then, explains Rollyson, his pupil went out and bagged 58 foxes in 47 days.

HAVERHILL, Mass.—Did you ever go looking for yourself? Well, Patrolman Melvin G. Batchelder did. A night watchman in a leather plant told him a suspicious man was trying to get into a nearby paint shop. Batchelder called headquarters. Three other officers quickly joined him. They found no one near the paint shop checking back on the time. Batchelder figured the "suspicious man" had been himself, trying doors.
